

--ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention relates to the production of an information unit for technical devices and machines, in particular for vehicle accessories which is readable day and night independently of the angle of view. For this purpose, the visible display elements (6) of the information unit comprises at least one light-diffusing plastic element (4) in which transparent and/or colored transparent diffusers are inserted into a transparent and/or colored transparent plastic compound.--